Commissioners' Squabbles Are Fizzle Tuesday

Sanitary Conditions Improved Need More Improvement, Is Eventual Decision

It was all peace and harmony, and "After you, my dear Gaston," at Tuesday night's meeting of the City Commission when the anticipated row between Commissioners C. Carlton and Crider over sanitary conditions versus overpumped street budget turned out in a fizzle as Crider produced three out-of-town officials to back up his department's claim that sanitary conditions in Belle Glade have improved so much that "you wouldn't recognize the place anymore."

In the absence of Mayor Close, Commissioner Collins chaired the meeting, which attracted a score of observers to the City Hall.

Called to the meeting to testify about sanitary conditions were E. D. Catts, supervisor of the State Hotel, Commissioner (East Coast) County, Volly Townsend, Deputy Hotel Commissioner, and Clyde E. Brown, Palm Beach County Health Department sanitarian (Glades area).

"I am proud of the facilities that we have here in Belle Glade," said Catts. "I just wish we could get the same kind of cooperation from the city of Miami!"

He recalled the situation six years ago in the Negro section when he and the City Engineer began the arduous battle to force hotels and restaurants to install flush toilets and running water. The main difficulty now, he said, was to be found in a number of buildings built before the adoption of the present street building code. Many of these buildings will have to be replaced.

Fish Are Biting, Says Slim Corbin

Fishing is good in Lake Okechobee just now, according to "Slim" Corbin, chumming camp owner and tender of the bridge to Turkey Island, where parties fishing at Long Point on Sunday afternoon brought in the limit of black bass. Two parties fishing in Peican Bay Monday were similarly lucky.

Milton Giese, meat clerk at Your Food Store, on Sunday brought in the limit of black bass weighing an average of three pounds each, Corbin said. On Monday, Al Bravado brought in one bass at five and a quarter pounds, three at one and a quarter, and three at one and a half.

In addition, "Slim" reports that fishing is good in general, though whether this is due to seining operations on the Lake, no one can say. He inclines to the opinion that higher lake level may have something to do with it. Or perhaps the fish are just hungrier. Anyway, they're biting.

SMOKES TAX FOR MAY MORE THAN $5,000

The City of Belle Glade will get more than $5,000 for cigarette taxes collected during the month of May 1952. That's a lot of smokes. The total cigarette tax collected throughout the state for that month amounted to $14,409,705, according to John E. Montgomery, Director of the State Revenue Department, which collects the tax. After deductions by the General Revenue Fund the remainder of $11,144,349.91 will be distributed to eligible incorporated municipalities and Belle Glade's share will be exacted to $3,310.54, while West Palm Beach will have $29,854.52. The tax is remitted to the city monthly, says Frank Anderson, City Clerk.

Two Arrested On Bolita Charges

The City of Belle Glade is right, and the "Bolita King" the same amount of money this week says the Police Department, which last Saturday July 19, arrested Henry Williams, Negro peddler and charged him with the possession and sale of bolita tickets. According to Sgt. V. C. Clark, the police, after a tip-off that Williams might be in the bolita ring known to be operating here, searched him for a moment at the Rink Building, at the southwest corner of Avenue A and 30th Street, and found a cigar box (Continued on Page 4)

C. Commission Adopts Safety Measures, Code

Besides the sanitation dispute, the discussion of flood control, and the condemned buildings (accounts elsewhere in this issue), the City Commission on Tuesday night were also preoccupied with paid bills, safety regulations, wine and beer licenses, and zoning regulations. They took the following action: (Continued on Page 4)

New Announcer Latest Addition To WSWN Staff

Station WSWN this week has announced a new staff announcer, a pleasant but unfamiliar voice that radio listeners have heard announcing the news. WSWN this week is that of Terrence O'Connell, who joined the staff on Monday. Mr. O'Connell, an American by birth and by adoption, was born in Cleveland, Ohio 28 years ago. He came to the United States in 1948, where he received his elementary education. Confronted in 1943 with the choice of American citizenship, Mr. O'Connell settled the question by joining the United States Navy, in which he served for three years. From 1946, when he was discharged from the Navy, until 1948, Mr. O'Connell attended Assumption College in Windsor, Ontario, graduating with a B.A. (Continued on Page 3)

which began July 19 and ends Monday. He is with the 54th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Brigade, one of several Army units in the first controlled training exercises prepared to put the air defense forces of the United States and Canada on an all-out operational basis. The anti-aircraft artillery batteries, working jointly with Canadian air defenses and a major portion of the Civilian Ground Observer Corps (GOC), will comprise the team coordinated for this air defense maneuver over Greater Boston and northeastern U. S. Corporal Richardson entered the Army in September 1950 and is now serving as a 90-mm. high-angle gunner in Battery A, 18th Anti-Aircraft Gun Battalion. Now in Boston, Cpl. Elmer C. Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Richardson of Chosen, Fla., is participating in this week in the exercise "Operation Signpost."

Breaking-Entering Suspect Caught By Police Tuesday

Local Electrician Charged With Entering Nick's Bar In Early Hours

Paul Dickerson, 40-year-old electrician of Camp Escoba, was arrested early Tuesday morning in Nick's Bar, 62 Avenue A, and charged with breaking and entering. According to Sgt. V. C. Clark, police have been watching the bar ever since it was robbed about a month ago. The arrest was made by Sgt. Clark and Patrolman J. B. Whitworth, who caught Dickerson about 2 a. m. near the safe in the front room of the bar, which had been closed for business at midnight. On patrol duty, the two officers were passing through the alley behind the building when they noticed that the door had been broken. At their rounds 20 minutes earlier, the door had been closed. A quick look inside the bar showed a lock-board had been broken. The two officers, entering quietly, found Dickerson crouched at the safe behind the package bar, and fiddling with the combination. However, as soon as he heard footsteps, Dickerson lay down on the floor and feigned sleep or drunkenness, the officers said. "In his pocket police found a screwdriver, with which they assumed he had forced entry."

Dickerson offered no resistance to arrest, but complained that the police had been "watching him for a month." He was lodged in jail and the case turned over to Constable Ray Whitlock. According to Sgt. Clark, the safe that Dickerson was attempting to open was a "watch" bar contained almost $400. Dickerson, it is alleged, knew the combination, having previously changed it for the owner of the bar.

The police have been keeping the bar under close surveillance for some time. (Continued on Page 4)

Rice Farmers From La. and Texas Have Begun Glades Trek

The effects of plans for rice growing in the Glades are becoming daily more evident; Tuesday and Thursday of this week there were three families looking for homes in La. to which to move, and all are rice growers.

More than ten new farmers

were around the City Wednesday getting themselves located, or planning for their return within a few days. Five from Winnie, Texas—two who were here ten days ago and who produced two brothers and a partner; three from Louisiana who are trying to get themselves located in the Glades. Rice crops back home to mature; two from Minnesota, and one from Indiana. I. L. Price, president of the Glades Rice Growers Cooperative, who brought two renters and a partner, emphasized that would not appeal to his preacher about the rice growers from Texas and Louisiana moving to the Glades. "It's almost a daily occurrence," said I. L., to have visitors in person, telephone calls, or letters from interested persons. Word is spreading with a sprinkling of those from other Florida points. Price announced that final plans and specifications on the drier, and storage bins are expected from the Co-op's en-

Lions Will Ask Nonstop Radio During Storms

Emphasizing the necessity for remaining on the air 24-hours around the clock during hurricanes or other emergencies, Donald Day, program director of station WSWN, asked the Lions Club Wednesday to start a letter campaign to insure uninterrupted broadcasts in the hazardous prequel time.

In past years during hurricanes of threatening proportions, WSWN has stayed on the air day and night, asking permission (Continued on Page 2)

Condemnation Suits Postponed By Commission

Three condemnation suits were held in abeyance by the City Commission meeting Tuesday night. The buildings in question were the Seventh Day Adventist Church at 10th Street and Avenue A, the Economy Store at SW 35th Street, and the building owned by Norman Hall at 728 SW Avenue D. A Negro caretaker appeared on behalf of Norman Hall, out-town for several months. The Commission ordered that the building, for which N. B. Willis has refused a building permit on the ground that the proposed repairs were totally inadequate—be vacated until the condemnation proceedings and the condemnation proceedings (Continued on Page 3)

Game Tonight Ends First Half Of Softball Season

In Tuesday night's games, Dr. Jones won from Hawk South 10-10 with Choate and McMillan doing the heavy lifting. Bass and Mobley, the hostesses for Hawkins. The second game was the first hiatus of the season when Coastal won from South Bay Lions 3-0. Creech and Stevens were the battery for Coastal, and O'Neal Walker and Collins for South Bay. With the games tonight the first half of the schedule is completed, with the exception of the 4th of July games to be made up, and August 5 starts the second half. The two top teams play to night and it should prove a very interesting game.

Game Tonight Ends First Half Of Softball Season

The old, old saying "No matter whether you win or lose it's how you play the game" has been made up, and the South Bay Lions, who by luck, quirk or what-have-you, have been high lights in the season of two or three games, and have lost eight straight games. But (flail) scores don't show their playing ability by any means. That "gang" is in there fighting every minute—win or lose, and have won admiration of the fans.

Bases reached on hand and knees; wild hits, runs and constant errors; belly-slides on wet grass as fielders run after high fliers; and barbaque from the crowd; screams, howls, laughs, a threatened riot, and an umpire who threw down his pads and mask and walked off the field in a huff have highlighted the summer softball games, with attendance increasing at every contest.

The umpire quit the ball game on Thursday night, July 17, in the second game of the double-header. (Continued on Page 3)

Dixie Lily Mills Encourages White Corn From Glades

The Dixie Lily Milling Company has a ready market for more than half a million bushels of good white milling corn which they would like to see grown in the Lake Okechobee area, according to a letter that Cecil M. Webb, president of the company, addressed to Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo on July 16.

Located in Tampa, the company is well known throughout the south as manufacturers of grits and white cornmeal. "If we could find a good white corn that will grow successfully in the Everglades, it would be another big step forward," said Commissioner Mayo, in releasing Webb's letter, which said: "I wish that some way your Department could encourage the Lake Okechobee area to raise some good white milling corn, as I understand they can raise two crops a year on the Okechobee land, and with our mills in Florida we have a ready market."

Concrete Wall In Hillsboro Asked By Commission

He couldn't say yes, but he didn't say no, W. Turner Wallis, of the Corps of Engineers, South Florida Flood Control District conferred with City Commissioners on Tuesday night in response to a concrete retaining wall to be built around that portion of the Hillsborough Canal that comes within the city limits. "We were not clear in our minds," said Wallis, "why the city wanted this wall," adding that he had heard some talk of "beautification." The Commissioners avowed that they had in mind a wall against erosion and the encroachment of weeds growing down from the banks and choking the canal, but that the original plan was to build a wall (Continued on page Four)

THAT'S NOT SPAGHETTI. Two weeks ago telephone and telegraph service to West Palm Beach, and trunk service to the west, were cut off by the malfunctioning of the Clearing House, a telephone operator employed on Flood Control District work about a mile east of Twenty-Mile Bend. A telephone man was working directly with the construction men, and had clearly marked and staked off the cable location; but despite this, a careless sweep of the dredge chomped off communications for more than three hours. The Southern Telephone Company rushed men to the scene, who promptly spliced the wires and restored communications as rapidly as possible. Looming large in the photograph above are W. C. ## Only Apparent "If" Is Engineers Plans and Specifications

In 1949 the State Road Department promised to repair it. In 1951 they promised to replace it. "A new one will certainly be built this year," said that's what they said: Now the Six-Mile Bridge, which has killed more people in the Palm Beach County area than doaths of P. B. County boys in, we believe, the Korean war, is in the news again. It's been recurrently in the news ever since it was built, and has often been called "Florida's No. 1 death trap."

Money to replace the bridge was allocated in the SRD's 1951 budget, following on numerous accidents and appeals by Representatives John Bollinger and B. Elliott, as well as by R. D. Blank and Canal Palmetto. The Resources Development Board, and others; and immediate action was promised by the SRD, and on February 6 last year, when two tourists were drowned, bringing the total of deaths to five deaths at Six-Mile Bend. It was then that Bollinger and Blank sent telegrams to Tallahassee, asking for the immediate elimination of "Florida's worst death trap."

In a telegram of reply, Chairman McKelham of the SRD said that the engineering department were estimating costs and exploring prospects for procuring materials for replacing the bridge.

The following week, the SRD, in a telegram to B. Elliott, said that the Road Department had $352,000 in the 1951 budget for replacing four bridges: those at Six-Mile Bend, South Bay, Lake Harbor, and Canal Palmetto. The telegram, from Merrill P. Barber, also promised: "Only in case of National Emergency requirements forcing curtailment of necessary materials will the construction of these bridges be delayed beyond the immediate future. They will certainly be built by September." They were not built last year. They are not built yet. (Continued on Page 3)

FLORIDA YEAR-ROUND HOST

In a world that can do with a bit of cheering news, the report that the increasing popularity of Florida as a year-round host to visitors has brought about a sharp rise in employment in the state is especially welcome.

According to statistics of the Florida Industrial Commission, the number of persons employed in Florida has risen 16 percent since 1947.

Part of this increase is attributed to developments in the war-preparedness economy. We are all well aware of the expansion in defense contracts and the enlargement and improvements at military and naval installations such as the Air Force Base at Eglin Field in North Florida and Jacksonville Naval Air Station. But, as the commission figures show, the healthy rise in Summer tourist business has been the major factor in bringing about increased and steadier employment opportunities.

Confirmation is found in reports of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce. These findings reveal that business last Summer, with about $160,000,000 in tourist business last Summer, with about 1,200,000 visitors coming here during the period.

Overall, that represented an increase of 20 percent above the 1950 record. And, judging from preliminary reports from all sections of the state, and particularly along Florida's East Coast, vacation business this Summer is expected to exceed 1951.

Until recent years, Summer visitors in many areas of the state were as rare as a hand-carried telephone. Now, thanks to a number of factors and the effective efforts of numerous individuals and organizations, it's far different.

Chambers of Commerce in nearly every community are enlisting a larger share of their budgets to Summer activities, and programs and really going after tourists of the Summer visitor. Governor Warren has played Florida advantages and directed the State Advertising Commission to do things in a bigger way than ever before. In the minds of people in many states and in many farther away, as a Summer resort.

The only obstacle most of the groups and individuals have had to overcome is the fact that Florida has such a perfect and well-founded reputation as a winter vacationland that it is hard for some folks to believe we could be anything but a winter resort.

Yet, a good look at U. S. Weather Bureau records will show that Florida has plenty to boast about as far as comfortable Summer living is concerned. Temperatures in our state year after year, are more moderate than those in many in Eastern or Mid-western city.

Too, advertising is serving to remind millions of prospective visitors that Florida has some of the best fishing in the world, spacious and beautiful beaches, out-of-the-ordinary natural attractions and fine accommodations at cheaper rates in the Summer. — Tampa Morning Tribune.

CONDEMNATION

held in abeyance until October 1.

L. E. Griffin's Economy Store was considered by the City Inspector to be safe 60 days, with the exception of an awning projecting over the street, which is to be removed. The property is now in litigation, and pending the outcome of the suit, the Commission decided to hear more of the matter in 60 days' time, and so granted a stay.

Reuben Portier, a member of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, appeared on behalf of the elder of the church, who was out of town. The fate of the church will rest with the commission, which is holding the matter in abeyance until the next meeting on August 12.

TWO CANDIDATES FILE FOR CITY COMMISSION

According to Frank Anderson, City Clerk, three candidates have been far quired to run for the City Commission, in the election on Tuesday, September 9.

Clyde Parrish of North Borough, has announced his candidacy and Walter Ashley and W. F. Crider will run again from Central and North Boroughs respectively.

The Gardener's Corner

Gladioli

By Mrs. Luther W. Jones
The gladiolus bulb is one that grows well in our "black gold" soil here. Almost anywhere along the fall and winter season, may be enjoyed if bulbs are planted every two weeks from September through March.

For best results and for long life of the bulbs, the beginner should select the very best bulbs he can buy of size 1 to 1 1/4 inches in diameter. The bulbs should be fat or plump, and should have on the outside dry, crisp layers of brownish color.

The bulbs should be planted about six inches deep and about four inches apart in good rich soil, with good drainage, which in a sunny location. A little sand in the bottom of the hole will facilitate good drainage. When buds first appear liquid fertilizer or dry fertilizer should be given them. This not only insures good color and large blooms, but it assures a good fat bulb for the next season's bloom.

Staking should be attended to while planting; otherwise the stems will be crooked and the blooming spikes may fall over when growth makes it top-heavy.

Cutting should be done early in the morning or late in the afternoon. Several inches of stem and some foliage should be left on the bulb. The blooms should be cut slantwise and placed in deep water for several hours before using in the vase. Changing the water in the vase each day and clipping off a bit of the stem at the same time will make the blooms stay fresher.

It is interesting to know that at each growing period, it will be found that the old bulb when planted as soon as, if not before, root growth starts. After the top gets started a new bulb starts to form, just on top of the old one, and this new bulb puts out a set of roots independent of those of the old bulb. When the new bulb approaches maturity and has blossomed it puts out a set of rhizomes that resemble short roots. These develop the small bulbets at their ends.

The old bulb will be found firmly fastened to the new one at digging time, but after ten days or two weeks' drying out can be easily pulled off. At this time the bulbets may be separated also and replanted as desired. The bulbets may be kept as long as one year before replanting, if kept in a dry cool place.

In cleaning the bulbs, the outer husks may be removed if given them a nice appearance, but enough husk must be left on to prevent, however, the injury of the eyes or buds. If found to be diseased, a good dusting with Semco or a good fungicide is necessary. If the bulbs are planted for cutting purposes, it is a good idea to plant a goodly number of the same variety.

The packages one finds on the market often contain several different colors which may be harmonized for arrangements in the home.

Me—Advising a Banker!

The Me and I were invited to dinner out at Blueville the night I met a banker from the Ohio capital.

"Nightly since you've got down here," he says. "Don't be surprised if I come to live here myself. In a few years I plan to get away from everybody, buy a farm and just take it easy."

"Well," I told him, "we'd like to have you. But when someone plans to buy a farm and take it easy he often winds up working harder than ever. It takes work to run a farm right to matter how many hands you can afford to hire."

"And from where I sit," I continued, "you won't get away from me either. Neither are you likely important in a farming community—whether it's helping one another out or just trying to get over a so-called glass of beer." "Hard work and neighbors dropping in all the time," he said, looking at me over a so-called glass of beer.

With South Bay up to bat, and one man on first base, the batter knocked the ball down the third base line which brought runners to first and second base. Umpire J. W. Mosley called it a fair ball, but in shouting the South Bay players couldn't hear; and when "Butterball" Rigdon, catching for Glades, called "foul," the South Bay players who have stayed on their bases, walked off, and were quickly tagged and put out. In the subsequent argument, "Mose" announced himself an ex-umpire and quit the job. Ralph Kirk, donned the pads and "umped" for the rest of the game, which ended in a score of 6-5 in favor of Glades.

Cane Knife Falls, Hits Boy, Eleven

No word of Damocles, but a wide-bladed two-foot cane knife fell out of the rear seat of a car on near the corner of Solim (Slim) Corbin, who was hurt last Saturday morning. The cane knife, which he had just affixed a new handle, fell and sliced his thumb almost completely away. The accident occurred in the motor car at Slim's docks, when Gordon, having thrust the newly repaired cane knife in the wall, turned and brushed against it, causing it to fall on his hand. He was rushed to Belle Glade Hospital, where Dr. R. L. Pipes treated the thumb to numerous stitches, connected the severed tendons. Gordon is reported to be recovering nicely.

What did the SRD do? First, they would appeal the suit. The first proposal submitted by the Road Department would have made a wide, sweeping curve approach to the bridge from the Belle Glade side.

Sounda good, doesn't it? The only hitch was that this proposed curve would have sliced the road into two sections. The road would be almost a mile and a half, leaving their pastures divided by the road. Naturally there were protests. However, the County Commission brought the right-of-way suit, in circuit court, to take the road out of the way. The five property owners involved a total of $40,707, of which the Van Landingshams were to get $30,715.32 as compensation for their piece of land and several buildings.

The Van Landingshams said they would appeal the suit. The suit was taken to the State Road Department and County changed their plan.

Following the suit, the County Commissioners decided to confer with the State Road Department on the advantages of an alternative route proposed, on behalf of Van Landingshams, by Engineer John Pickett.

The second proposal affects only two land owners. The first was a conference at Fort Lauderdale, including Kenneth P. Foster, County Engineer, Chairman, County Engineer, J. M. Boyd; Merrill P. Barber, Vero Beach SRD member, and M. M. Taylor, district engineer for the SRD, a compromise proposal was given the go-ahead.

The new bridge will be located to the northwest of the present road, and shorter by 100 feet than the original proposal, which belled out for 1,100 feet (or almost a mile and a half).

It will involve giving the Hillsborough Canal a new shape, so that it will form a slightly more curvaceous "C" with the Cross-Cut Canal. This is necessary to allow the bridge to be built at right angles.

Preliminary surveys started last week. The promised actual construction work will begin within three months. This time it's real!

MATHEMATICS TEACHER AT EDUCATION CONFERENCE

Roy L. Litchfield, Belle Glade Junior High mathematics teacher, was in Tallahassee this week, attending the statewide Florida Use Work Conference on "Education and the Future of Florida," which was held Monday and Tuesday at Florida State University.

The conference, planned by FSU and its School of Education had as its main theme, "Education for wise use of all resources to improve living," and was designed to encourage cooperation between the schools and other agencies for better understanding and use of resources in Florida and the Southeast.

NEW ANNOUNCER

(Continued from Page One) degree. After his graduation, he worked as a news announcer with the Kitchener, Ontario as the best radio station in southern Florida and in Belle Glade specifically was aroused, he says, by the fascinating record of a colleague at Kitchener who had vacationed here, and who was enthusiastic not only about the scenery, but about opportunities in general. "He spoke of WSWN as the best radio station in southern Florida," says Mr. O'Connell, who promptly made some recordings of his work, shipped them off to WSWN, and awaited results. They were not long in coming. The station hired him on the spot. He arrived in Belle Glade Sunday from New York, and reported on WSWN's Monday morning. With a pleasant deep voice and a charming manner, Mr. O'Connell is a welcome addition to the station staff.

DIXIE LILY MILLS

E. V. Stevenson, associate plant pathologist at the Experiment Station, in commenting on the letter, said, "White corn will undoubtedly give good yields. We have experimented with strains from Kentucky and Louisiana, and the yields were exceptionally high, but at the same time, white corn is softer than yellow, and subject to attack by moths and by insects, who are already growing white corn and selling it to Dixie. I know the Company is looking for good, clean corn. At the Station we have not done any extensive experimenting with white strains yet, because in order really to grow them, the Station will have to concentrate on the storage problem. White corn requires better storage than the harder yellow corns—either cold storage, or storage under exceedingly dry conditions. The ideal would be a combination of cold storage and dehumidification."

Mr. Stevenson also advises growers raising white corn to pay close attention to harvesting dates.

With that advice in mind, and with the Dixie Lily market assured more Glades growers will want to try their luck.

They were rushed to the hospital by Berry's ambulance and placed in the care of Dr. R. L. Phipps.

According to FHP Joe P. Bertand, Mr. and Mrs. Luther were traveling south in their 1951 Renault Sedan, when they observed a car approaching on the wrong side of the highway. Mr. Luther attempted to avoid collision by swerving to the other lane.

The driver of the 1947 Mercury, approaching from the south, Cedric Clifford Grinnett, age 30, of Opa Locks, told the patrolman later that he had dozed off at the wheel; waking and finding himself on the wrong side of the highway, he attempted to regain the proper lane with the result that the two cars met almost head on.

Grinnett was charged with not having his car under control and for driving without a license.

Veterans Administration Information Service

Post-Korea Veterans who need outpatient treatment for disabilities that are presumed to have resulted from their service will be provided needed treatment by Veterans Administration until VA can determine whether their disabilities actually are service-connected.

V. S. Parker, Manager of the Veterans Administration Miami Regional Office released the announcement recently with the statement that this procedure is designed to prevent any delay in furnishing outpatient treatment for such veterans.

Under existing regulations, outpatient treatment for most veterans may be given only for service-connected disabilities after VA has determined that the disabilities actually are service-connected and then has authorized the treatment.

The change to permit treatment for presumed service-connected disabilities before final determination has been made found that I had some real fire applies only to veterans who are in the active U. S. Military or Naval Forces any place in the world on or after June 17, 1948, the start of the Korean conflict and before a date yet to be set.

These post-Korea veterans also must have been discharged or released from such service under conditions other than dishonorable or have been retired. One other requirement applies to Post-Korea veterans who are seeking disability retirement pay from the Armed Forces. They must first elect to take their compensation from VA before their disabilities can be presumed to be service-connected for VA outpatient treatment.

These requirements may be provided needed out-patient treatment either for dental or medical disabilities presumed to have been incurred in or aggravated by service. While these treatment are being given, VA will determine if the disabilities actually are service-connected.

Where VA finds that the disabilities are not service-connected, the treatment will be discontinued from that date, but where VA finds that the disabilities actually are service-connected, outpatient treatment will be continued and the veteran will receive VA compensation.

If sufficiently disabled, will receive VA compensation. Each candidate at the point of discharge or release from service must file the application with the VA office in the community where he was discharged or released. The application must be filed with the VA office in the community where he was discharged or released. The application must be filed with the VA office in the community where he was discharged or released.

To be eligible for dental treatment under these conditions, a Post-Korea veteran must file his application within 12 months from date of his discharge or release from a period of 6 months or more of active service that has been terminated on or after June 27, 1950. Unless the application is otherwise approved by VA, it will be approved on the basis of prima facie eligibility for the treatment of dental disabilities shown by examination or other evidence to have existed within one year from date of discharge or release. However, the replacement of missing teeth will be authorized only as may be necessary for the correction of defects for which service-connection already has been established.

For medical outpatient treatment of all other disabilities except active Psychosis, active tuberculosis and multiple sclerosis (A sort of creeping paralysis), the disabilities may be presumed to be service-connected within 1 year from the date of the veteran's discharge or release from active service on or after June 27, 1950. For active Tuberculosis, the disability may be presumed to be service-connected within 2 years of the veteran's discharge on or after June 27, 1950. For multiple sclerosis, the disability may be presumed to be service-connected within 2 years of the veteran's discharge on or after June 27, 1950. For active Psychosis, the disability may be presumed to be service-connected within 2 years of the veteran's discharge on or after June 27, 1950. For active Tuberculosis, the disability may be presumed to be service-connected within 2 years of the veteran's discharge on or after June 27, 1950. For multiple sclerosis, the disability may be presumed to be service-connected within 2 years of the veteran's discharge on or after June 27, 1950.

FEMININE FLORIDA

By Doris Daniel

Even with the children under foot all day long, summer time still allows most of us a great deal of leisure time. It's a good time to get busy and do all those chores we keep putting off because of the lack of time. These long summer days are a good time to "clean up" our garages and our neighborhoods in general.

Throughout the state Jaycees have been conducting clean-up campaigns. Empty lots, stagnant water, drainage ditches have been getting a thorough cleaning here we'd all do well to launch our very own clean-up campaign. Everybody in the family can join in and rid the neighborhood of pesky rubbish and breeding places for snakes, bugs and mosquitoes. Cleaning out your attic and garage will eliminate a fire hazard and rid you of a lot of worthless rubbish.

Recently I went through my reuse cleaning out closets, and it was surprising how much worthless stuff I had been saving for no good reason at all. I made a bundle of all the clothes I had been pushing to the back of the closet. I didn't wear them, but just because they were still in good condition I kept them. Some worthy charity is now putting them to much better use. The Children's Home of Florida, Jacksonville, welcomes donations. I went through all of my books that I had been accumulating and discarded those that I never used. My garage was a different story.

hazards stored out there. Newspapers which are stored in garages are a breeding place for scorpions, roaches and other pests. If you are going to store papers, store them in the garage—just you must, hang them where they will get plenty of air and light. Keep fertilizers and other flammable materials where they can get plenty of air and better yet, keep them in a metal container. If you have fire extinguishers in the house or garage, check them to be sure they are filled and working.

In the interest of economy, store your lawn equipment carefully and keep it oiled and cleaned. Shelves and racks are most convenient to have and store a great many things that should not be lying about. Too many people use their garages for a catch-all and, as a result, many home accidents occur in the garage.

"It's all right to drink like a fish—if you drink what a fish drinks," said a K.K.C. cafe.
